Sacramento, July 13, 1886.

ASTRAY.

Pair of large bay horses, white stripe on faces; small one branded G B on right hip and large one branded with diamond and G in center. Owner can have them by proving property, and paying cost of keeping and advertising. Inquire at the Poor Farm. A. B. BOLES June 29 tr

Plumbing.

J. B. McGuirk the plumber, is now situated in the Opera House block and all jobs of tinning and plumbing in trusted to his care will be attended to in a workmanlike manner, and you don't have to mortgage your house to pay for it.

—WANTED TO RENT—House in the Northern part of the city. Inquire at this office.

ALL SORTS.

—Clark of the Voltair has returned.

—Old Alf. Doten has just turned his 157th birthday.

—Rosa Thomas is held with bonds fixed at $1,500.

—Congress will probably adjourn on the 28th of this month.

—A new Republican paper is to be started in Winnemucca.

—WANTED—A girl to do general housework. Apply at this office.

—Friend says that a man is a fool to look for rain for some weeks.

—D. O. Mills and Whitelaw Reid passed through to Virginia City yesterday.

—A new paper, Democratic in politics, will be started in this city next week.

—Judge Boardman is now in the ring for a District Judgeship on the Republican ticket.

—Rosa Thomas the victim of the alleged incest case in Virginia City has turned up in Oakland.

—A man named Lapidaire in Virginia City is advertising in the newspapers that he is "no snide."

—Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most effective blood purifier ever devised. It is recommended by the best physicians.

—The Tribune makes a mistake in cracking up Inyo county lands. Let the California papers blow for Inyo.

—If you want bargains go to E. B. Rail's; he has just received a large stock of hardware of every description.

—Slade the Maori pugilist is in town. There is some slugging business in the wind but the inside is kept very quiet.

—Tom Bradley, of Lapanta fame, is down in San Francisco trying to spree away $13,000. He'll get there all the same.

—The Opera House was crowded with ladies yesterday, to hear Prof. McDonald lecture. A full report is crowded out through a rush of new advertisements.

—Dr. Freeman is well and favorably known in Carson as he has made annual trips here for years, to treat all deformities of the body and all chronic troubles, etc.

—The California Press Association will be here this evening and give a concert at the Opera House. Isn't it about time we stirred around to make the stay and reception a pleasant one?

—It is the easiest thing in the world to order men to quit work and to pass resolutions by the yard. But men have families to support and resolutions are not legal tender at the baker's, the butcher's, or the grocer's.

—The high license for peddlers is a good thing. Carson merchants who pay taxes for the year should be protected against the peripatetic pack peddlers who come here with the "smuggled goods" story and take money out of the town.

—Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer never fails in restoring gray hair to its youthful color, lustre, and vitality. Dr. A. H. Hayes State Assayer of Massachusetts, endorses it; and all who give it a fair trial unite in grateful testimony of its many virtues.

—The Dilke and Crawford scandal in England shows up the fact that the anonymous letters of warning written to Crawford, charging his wife with illicit relations with Dilke came from Mrs. Crawford herself. Mrs. Crawford seems to have two principle ambitions in life, viz: To share the couch of a British nobleman, and then get the transaction recorded in the newspapers and cabled to America.

—It is well known that the inhabitants of many Eastern nations shield themselves against infectious disorders by wearing Aromatic Gums on the pit of the stomach. Their instincts are right, for strong permanent odors are antagonistic to the living germs which cause disease. For this reason Allcock's Perous Plasters, being composed of fragrant aromatic gums, are the best safeguard to wear on the pit of the stomach in Cholera time or in localities where sewer gas and malaria are found. They not only prevent infection, but will cure diarrhea, dysentery, cholera, and bowel complaints.

Abolish Poll Taxes.

Some of the newspapers of California are advocating the abolition of poll taxes. The cause is a just one. There never was a system of taxation imposed upon a suffering people more unjust or more unequal in its operation than the present method of levying and collecting poll taxes. The Truckee Republican says it is an universal rule that none but the laboring men are compelled to pay these taxes. There is no escape from them. The Assessor simply leaves an order with their employers, who at once charge the amount to the accounts of the laborers. The employers themselves do not pay any such taxes. There is scarcely a rich, influential and prominent citizen who has in his possession a poll tax receipt with his name on it. It is a known fact that Assessors use the poll tax system as means of showing favoritism for the purpose of perpetuating their political existence. In Nevada county this abuse exists to a great extent. It is a frequent occurrence to hear prominent citizens say: "I never have to pay poll taxes." It is therefore no wonder that Assessors are "popular."—Times-Review.

No soiled shirts.

The Grass Valley Tidings seems to have an idea that Chinese are doing laundry work here, because the steam laundry is not running. Such is not a fact. The white people do all the washing.—Truckee Republican.

Mr. McGlashen when in town last week told the Transcript that some of the richest and most fastidious men in Truckee now wear woolen shirts altogether for the reason that they cannot, since the steam laundry closed, have white shirts "done up" to suit them except by Chinamen, and the latter they will not patronize under any circumstances. He says the Chinese laundrymen there get no washing to do excepting their own and that they will all be starved out soon.—Nevada City Transcript.

The Times Tells the Truth.

This is what the Chicago Times said about the approaching Sells Brothers' Great Shows:

"The circus—everybody is at the circus. Sells Brothers keep their pledges with their patrons. They advertise nothing unfairly—a phenomenon of 'professional' integrity. Their tents are 'object lessons' for the young in natural history. They have many genuine curiosities, and their 'artists' are astonishing as genius ever is when animated by sawdust."

Sells Brothers put in an appearance here Friday, August 6th.

To The Afflicted.

Dr. Freeman the expert specialist from San Francisco, will be at the Arlington Hotel, Carson, Friday July 23rd, 24th, 25th and 26th, fully prepared to treat paralysis, club or reel feet, crooked or carved spine, hip, and diseases of the knees, also all chronic diseases, such as troubles of the eye, ear deafness and discharge of the ear, catarrh, throat and lung troubles. No charge for consultation.

Free Lecture.

Tomorrow night Prof. McDonald will give a free lecture on health and phrenology. Today, from 9 o'clock A. M. until 6 P. M., he will give phrenological examinations in regard to making the most of one's self, at the ante-room of the Opera House. The Professor is giving splendid lectures to crowded houses.

Look at the List.

The Democrats of the Anti-Chinese insist that the Republicans want to break up the movement against the Chinese and down the Steam Laundry. Look at the delinquent assessment list published in another column and see just how many Republicans and Democrats are delinquent.

—Truckee Republican: A few days ago a man near here left a good job of work, because his fellow workmen swore so much. He wasn't used to it. What he wants, evidently, is a job in a printing office, where none but the most refined and classic language is ever permitted.

—One of the neatest things out in the advertising line is a papier mache imitation of a soda cracker. The advertisement is on the under side, and being given to a man with the plain side up the chances favor his putting it in his mouth before discovering what is up.

The Public Debt.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The World in a double-leaded editorial is out in favor of the Morrison proposition, thus placing itself in quasi antagonism to the Administration and its fiscal policy. It says: We don't credit the intemperate charges that more than two-thirds of the entire House of Representatives, with such leaders as Randall, Carlisle, Holman, Morrison, Randolph, Tucker, etc., are rascals and idiots. The fear that bonds will be redeemed in silver is chimerical. It is a turaboo to create prejudice against Morrison's proposition. People who would oppose and denounce the payment of bonds in silver as dishonest and dishonorable, people outside of the capitalistic classes, favor Morrison's resolution as wise, conservative and in the strict line of economy, retrenchment, reform and Democratic pledges.

The Journal of Commerce says: We doubt the wisdom of directing so large a disbursement of the Treasury surplus; but the error, if there is one, is not so glaring that there may not be two sides to the question. Apart from this, the clamor that such disbursement meant repudiation, or is anything akin thereto, is perfectly ridiculous.

A Sensation in the Crawford Case.

LONDON, July 19.—In the divorce case of Crawford against Crawford and Dilke, an expert in calligraphy testified that he had compared the handwriting in four letters and admitted written by Mrs. Crawford and signed "Virginia" with the anonymous letters warning Crawford against the "member for Chelsea," and which eventually stirred Crawford up to the discovery of his wife's alleged relations with Sir Charles Dilke. The expert said that the similarity between the writing in the anonymous notes and in the signed letters was so great that he believed the same person had written all the letters he examined. The testimony produced a sensation in court.

How Dunn Was Traded.

The Occasional in telling how Adams traded off some men on the State ticket omits to mention Mr. Peter Dunn. Dunn was traded right and left by Adams. Dunn was warned of this contemplated swap about a week beforehand, but he made no preparations to meet it as he could not bring himself to believe that Adams would stoop to such a trade.

Adams got the Irish vote and caved Dunn down the bank. This year Adams will tell the Irish that he expects their help because he made such a fight for Dunn.

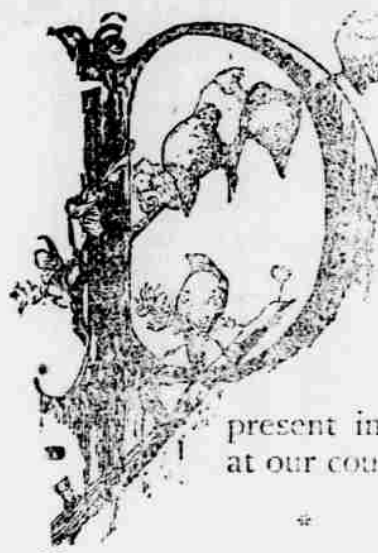

—In 1877 electric lighting by the incandescent system was declared by many to be contrary to scientific principles. The same was said of the use of iron, and later of steel, in bridge building. The Suez canal was once demonstrated as a wild and foolish scheme. Less than fifty years ago educated mechanics asserted that steamships could never carry enough coal for a long ocean voyage. Leading shipbuilders told us that iron ships could not swim; and when one or two floated it was said that they could not hold together permanently. Rolls for flour making were once hooted and derided. The world will not stand still for any one.

—A Virginia paper reports a eulogy pronounced on a deceased member of the Texas Legislature. "While it is true," cried the obituary orator, "that the deceased member, Colonel —, of —, could not satisfactorily explain the disappearance of the funds of the First National Bank of —, of which he was President, yet his remarks upon the memorable occasion showed that his heart beat warmly for his native land."

—The reaction against the depression in Eastern financial circles has begun and inside of two years everything there will be in a whirl. The grain crop is large, the demand for goods increasing and even allowing for the strikes, times have improved. Gold shipments to Europe have ceased and according to such good authority as Henry Clewes & Co., European confidence in American securities is increasing.

—Everybody in Belmont has already announced themselves as candidates for office.

FIRESIDE SHOPPING.

DECIDEDLY important are the facilities afforded out-of-town customers by our Mail Order Department. Mail shopping is now a perfect system, and customers in distant parts of the Coast receive the same careful attention to requests for samples and orders for goods as though present in Sacramento to be served at our counters.

No one who has failed to try it knows what convenience this is to the public. Instead of being obliged to make a trip to town, or to annoy some city friend with your shopping, a few lines to us will bring the goods desired in prompt return.

In sending directly to us no obligation is incurred, and if goods do not suit they can be returned.

The cost of postage, freight or express charges is the only extra expense, and amounts to but little as compared with the saving usually made in buying from us.

Customers are served, in fact, even more carefully by mail than those who shop in person, as we consider ourselves responsible, not only for the quality, but also the suitability of the goods.

Orders for Hardware, Groceries and such other lines of goods as we do not keep, are purchased on the outside as an accommodation to customers.

A large Illustrated Catalogue, together with any samples that may be desired, sent free to any address.
